Introduction

The Deaflympics is an international multi-sports event hosted by the International Committee of Sports for the Deaf (ICSD) and held in the summer and winter every four years.

The Japanese Federation of the Deaf was nominated as a candidate to host the 2025 Deaflympics at a 49th ICSD Congress held in Vienna, Austria on 9th and 10th September 2022. After garnering much support, the official decision was made to hold the Games in Tokyo.

This will be the first time that Japan hosts the Deaflympics, and also marks the 100th anniversary of the Deaflympics, which were first held as the International Games for the Deaf in Paris in 1924.

The Games Foundation plan has been formulated by the Japanese Federation of the Deaf, Tokyo Metropolitan Government, and Tokyo Sport Benefits Corporation.

In addition to the vision for the Games, which was published in August 2023, it describes the work for supporting the Games, including the operation of events and venues, as well as the preparations required for holding the Games and our thinking behind the level of service that will be provided.

We will create specific plans for the level of service and operation work, and focus on preparations for ensuring a successful Games and building a legacy after the Games have concluded.

These historic Games provide an opportunity to promote understanding of the Deaflympics and deaf sports and to help create an inclusive society in which people with and without disabilities can enjoy sports, recognise and respect each other's differences.

03 Overview of the Games

Games Emblem

Faculty of Industrial Technology students at the Department of Synthetic Design at Tsukuba University of Technology, the only university in Japan for the hearing impaired or visually impaired, produced multiple design proposals for the emblem, and secondary school students in Tokyo, including those at schools for the deaf, voted for their favourite design.

Creator's comment and concept

- I took the theme of a 'circle' to represent the connections between people.
- Using a hand, a symbol representative of the deaf community, my design expresses touching on topics and sports through the Deaflympics, with the hope that mutual exchange and connecting communities like a 'circle' will lead to a new future blossoming like a flower. I used cherry blossom petals as a motif for the flower.
- The emblem was designed to be a single line, which enables it to depict connections between deaf athletes and connections with spectators and children, and also makes it fun for children to draw.
